Aliette from Paris

Let your eye be caught by Parisian artist, Aliette's illustrations. Her works intimately depict natural and domestic subjects, such as a sleeping kitten, a child releasing balloons into the sky, or a plush rabbit fondly pegged to a clothes-line.

Aliette's works are rendered using monochrome techniques punctuated by elements of colour, to create works which are, in a wonderfully delicate way, both wistful and playful.

Although they can be presented as stand-alone works, we find that they are particularly well-suited to combination as a series.
